Beatriz Berry

Emergency Management Admin – Homeland Security

“It doesn’t matter how many times you get knocked down, but how many times you get up.”

-Vince Lombardi

Beatriz Berry is originally from New York and was raised in a single-parent home from the second grade onward. She has remained tenacious for her children, raising three as a single parent. Beatriz wanted her children to see that no matter what happens, you can always get back up, and no matter what life throws at you, this too shall pass. She went back to school and is due to graduate with an Associate of Science. and an Associate of Applied Science in Emergency Management Administration/Homeland Security. Her goal is to get her Bachelor of Science in Emergency Management and Homeland Security through West Texas A&M.

Beatriz is excited to graduate and begin the next chapter in her life attending West Texas A&M. Her collegiate success was possible because of the caring support of Professor Kline at San Antonio College. She believes Kline brings honor to the profession and the Homeland Security department. She would like to thank SAC for all the support it provided her.
