Amber Lynn Guitron

NURSING

*“Don’t be afraid. Be focused. Be determined.
Be hopeful. Be empowered.”*

- Michelle Obama

Amber Lynn Guitron was born and raised in San Antonio. After being employed as a nanny for several years, she decided to go back to school at 26 to pursue her dream of becoming a registered nurse.

Amber worked full-time during the day and took evening classes at night to complete her prerequisite requirements. Although she spent most of her weekends studying at Starbucks instead of hanging out with family and friends, it was all worth it once she received her acceptance letter to the nursing program.

Amber plans to continue her education by pursuing a bachelor’s degree in nursing while she works as a new graduate nurse. Ultimately, Amber wants to pursue a master’s degree to become a pediatric nurse practitioner. Her overall goal is to provide healthcare to underserved communities.

When Amber is not working towards her educational goals, she likes to spend time traveling, going to concerts, and trying new restaurants.
